

ANNUALREPORTS.COM'S SERVICES OFFERED

Annual Report Directory Membership: Enjoy the valuable benefits of a year membership to America's largest online annual report directory. Our exclusive directory allows many benefits to our participating companies including a market reach of individual investors, money managers, shareholders, company employees, and financial institutions. Membership has also allowed our clients to save thousands of dollars in unnecessary printing and fulfillment costs. Having the annual reports available in their actual format online allows investors to view and print the annual report directly from the web. This cuts down on hard copy requests and allowing AnnualReports.com to remain ecologically and financially friendly.

Investor Relations in the Internet age brings with it new challenges -- 24/7 pressures from the media, demanding net-savvy individual investors and complex SEC regulatory forces. AnnualReports.com helps bridge the gap between publicly traded companies and the investor.

What is AnnualReports.com?

For educated investors, a company's annual report is the most important research tool available. The annual report enables investors to stay up to date on a company's yearly outlook. Since 1999, AnnualReports.com has successfully introduced new investors to the thousands of companies that participate in our program.

AnnualReports.com was created to give investors a direct link to a broad network of publicly traded companies. AnnualReports.com is an online directory of annual reports gathered directly from public companies and Wall Street's leading investment firms.

Today, thousands of users from individual investors to leading financial institutions log on to AnnualReports.com to access the largest library of annual reports.

In today's around the clock society, investors need information instantly, thus AnnualReports.com began providing investors with our annual report directory. Since our inception AnnualReports.com has fed the individual and institutional investors appetite for financial knowledge.

Today, we are the leader in linking direct communications from a company to its investors. AnnualReports.com is the most comprehensive online annual report directory available anywhere.

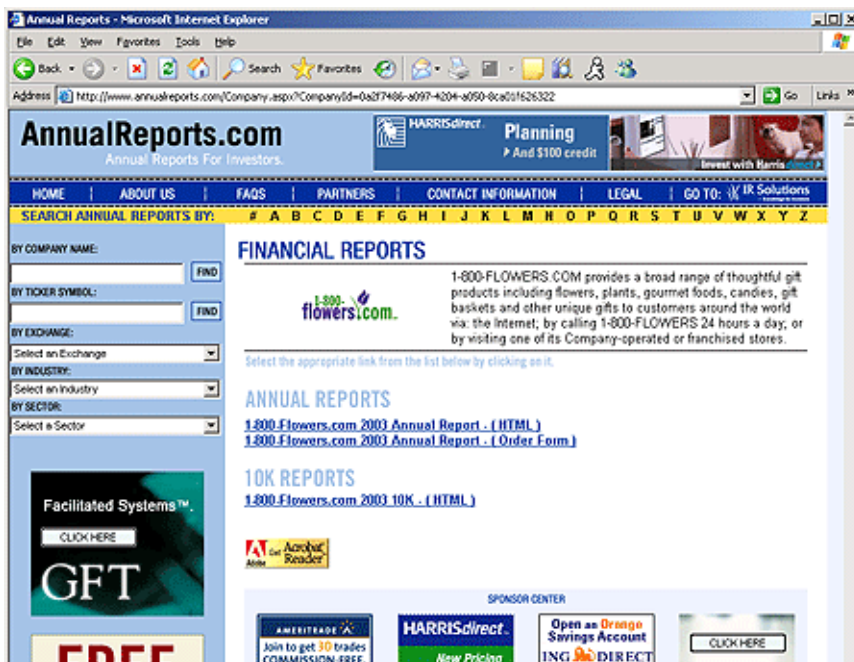

AnnualReports.com is the first website to allow individual investors, money managers, shareholders, company employees, and financial institutions instant access to corporate annual reports in their actual format in one location.
